

Cool ideas.
Cool companies.

COOL

jobs. Another reason
Indiana is so hot.

The next time you push the air-conditioning button on a Honda for some instant relief, you can thank the employees at Keihin AirCon in Muncie, Indiana. AirCon is just one more progressive company that has blown into Indiana. With our bright minds, highly skilled workforce, central location and pro-business attitude, Indiana is becoming one hot state for a lot of very cool companies. Check out our Web site at www.indianacommerce.com for more information. It's a breeze!
